PITT MED PROFESSIONALISM ACCOLADE

ALEX CRANE

MS2 Student

"I am pleased to nominate Alex Crane for a professional accolade, in recognition of his exceptional professionalism in organizing and leading "SonoGames." Sonogames is a yearly ultrasound competition at Pitt Med, which is an annually cherished [event]. This year, Alex took a large role of organizing the games. His commitment to the event was evident from the outset, as he invested significant time and effort into every aspect of its planning and execution. The games were highly successful, and was able to engage medical students across our institution.

Alex demonstrated outstanding leadership by coordinating logistics, securing resources, and fostering collaboration among students, faculty, and staff. The event ran smoothly and was a rewarding experience for all participants. It was especially rewarding to see how many faculty, residents, and students attended and enjoyed the event.

This is not the first time Alex has demonstrated his commitment to his peers of Pitt Med, but was an outstanding example of his character and professionalism. For these reasons, I believe he is highly deserving of recognition for his contributions to our Pitt Med community."
