PITT MED PROFESSIONALISM ACCOLADE

LAUREN SIMONIAN

MS3 Student

"Lauren performed exceptionally well on her Internal Medicine rotation and would often go the extra mile for patients. One such example was when Lauren took extra time to care for a Russian speaking patient who was having a difficult time adjusting in the hospital. Lauren went out of her way to translate the patient's medication list into Russian, a moment that highlighted her dedication to patient care and how much she values humanism in medicine. She was a fantastic and supportive peer to work with that made the rotation a both an excellent learning environment and a place of trust and camaraderie."
