

Pitt Med Professionalism Accolade

CONGRATULATIONS!

Devan Kowdley
MS1 Student

Devan Kowdley was the leader and proponent of the student-led team that helped create a mock anatomy lab practical for the extremities exam. Devan created the idea to come in early the day before the exam to help pin structures to allow other students to quiz themselves in advance of the exam, volunteering part of his study day to help others. Devan went above and beyond to help others prepare for the final practical exam when he could have spent that time studying for himself.

Additionally, I would like to recognize Devan for his continued support of the PittMed community by routinely disseminating materials he finds useful, including self-made tables, charts, and notes. Devan is truly invested in the success of others. I am proud that our community has someone like Devan to help others.

-- Submitted by a medical student
Spring 2023

University of Pittsburgh

Office of the Learning
Environment
School of Medicine

www.ole.pitt.edu/PAIR