CONGRATULATIONS!

Sol La Bruna

MS2 Student

Sol has single-handedly held together the MS2 class throughout our pre-clinical years. From the very first week of med school - before she was even elected president of our class - she was doing the most for our class and she has continued to do so over the past 2 years. Sol has been our voice both inside and outside the classroom, always taking the initiative to reach out to admin or course directors when we're all freaking out over some little discrepancy and immediately relaying information back to us to relieve the collective neuroticism. Not only is she an incredible advocate, she's also been instrumental to the success of much of our class's learning experience; before each block, Sol created and shared spreadsheets that aligned lectures with 3rd party resources and Anki tags, some of which ended up being more helpful than the syllabi themselves. Sol is the keystone to our class's spirit of camaraderie and cooperativity!
