

Pitt Med Professionalism Accolade

CONGRATULATIONS!

Marissa uses the skills she gained through her prior research experience to not only achieve her own goals, but to also help her classmates navigate the intricacies of clinical research. Some examples of topics I have witnessed her clarify for her classmates include designing protocols, applying for grants, and navigating the resources available for organizing a study. She is a wonderful listener, a problem solver, and a true leader among her peers.

Marissa Tremoglie-Barkowski
MS2 Student

--Submitted by a medical student Medical Student Research, Fall 2023

University of Pittsburgh®

Office of the Learning
Environment
School of Medicine

www.ole.pitt.edu/PAIR